SUBDIVISION CONSTRUCTION PLAN PROCESS

The process for Subdivision Construction Plans involved the following steps (See UDC Section 2.4):

SUBDIVISION CONSTRUCTION PLAN APPLICATION CHECKLIST

1. Submittal of Application. Subdivision Construction Plans must be submitted in the form required provided by the City Engineer. The City will not accept incomplete Subdivision Construction Plans and will return incomplete plans to the applicant. Subdivision Construction Plans are not considered filed for the purposes of Texas Local Government Code Chapter 212.009 until approval is received from all applicable Water, Wastewater, Electric and Gas utility provider other than the City, and TXDOT, if applicable.
2. Review. City Staff will review the Subdivision Construction Plans for compliance with the Subdivision Ordinance and other city requirements and provide comments. The applicant may need to make changes and revisions to the plans or supporting materials.
3. Action. The City Engineer must approve the Subdivision Construction Plans if:
  - a. The Subdivision Construction Plans are consistent with the approved preliminary plat; and
  - b. The Subdivision Construction Plans conform to the subject property's zoning (including zoning design standards) or development agreement, as applicable, and to the standards for adequate Public Facilities, contained in the UDC, Technical Manuals, and all other applicable City Ordinances.
4. Effect of Approval of Subdivision Construction Plans. Following approval of the Subdivision Construction Plans by the City Engineer the applicant may:
  - a. Schedule a Pre-Construction Meeting (See UDC Section 2.4.2B.2); and
  - b. Apply for Construction Release (See UDC Section 2.4.2B.3)
  - c. Record the Final Plat, if required Fiscal Security has been posted (See UDC Section 2.4.3B.3)
  - d. The applicant may also be issued a Building Permit if the City has approved a Building Permit application and all other Building Permit requirements have also been met. The City will not issue a Certificate of Occupancy until after acceptance of the required Public Facilities.
5. Expiration Date for Subdivision Construction Plans. The approval of Subdivision Construction Plans remains in effect for a period of one (1) year from the date of approval, or for the duration of construction of the project, provided that Progress Towards Completion, in accordance with TLGC Chapter 245.005, continues or the City approves an extension of the Subdivision Construction Plans in accordance with UDC Section 2.4.1H.
